TAX PAYING TIME EXTENDED

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—Gov. Haskell tonight approved the bill, passage of which was completed in the legislature today, extending the time for paying taxes due last December and which would have become delinquent tomorrow. The senate in handling the legislation last regularly voted down all amendments for fear of jeopardizing passage of the bill today. A number of the senators held that it provided no way for recovery of excess taxes already paid without mandamus proceedings, and Senator Davis asked that an amendment of the character be accepted. It was practically agreed that if this became necessary a supplemental act would be passed. Taxes affected are those for the first half of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909 and for the deficiencies of the last fiscal year, being due Dec. 15, 1908, and delinquent with penalty Jan. 15. The bill extends payment until April 19, and the penalty does not run until thirty days afterward.

Reason for the legislation was found in the numerous excessive tax levies made by counties, which were reported to the administration from nearly every section of the state. The bill provides that where the tax levies for any county, city, township, town or school district for the period contemplated, which shall have been illegally made or exceeds the reasonable public requirements they may be corrected by the proper officers. In event of their failure or refusal to do so action may be brought by any taxpayer, the county attorney or by the attorney general under the direction of the governor.

Where taxes have been paid prior to the passage of the act and levy whereof is subsequently corrected under provision of this law the excesses are to be credited upon the second half of such levy, and where the amount exceeds the total amount of such corrected levy the excess is to be refunded.

HISTORIC HOUSE IS BURNED

Bliss, Okla., Jan. 14.—Barely escaping incineration with nothing on but their night clothes, early in the morning, ten people scrambled wildly down stairs and out into zero weather when the big White House at the 101 Ranch was completely destroyed by fire with all its contents.

George Miller sustained a bruised foot in making his escape down the stairs, and that all were not burned to death is a miracle.

The fire caught in the furnace and spread rapidly through the house before any one awoke, and when discovered the whole building was a roaring, seething mass of flames. All the inmates were compelled to walk barefooted through the snow and freezing cold to the other ranch houses for shelter.

The house was occupied by Geo. Miller and his mother and family. It was richly furnished, and contained many valuable mementoes, all of which were destroyed. The only article saved was a trunk belonging to Mr. Miller's mother.

The loss is estimated at $30,000, with insurance of $7,500. Another building will replace the one burned and it will be built at once. The building burned was three stories and basement, and contained fourteen rooms. It is probably one of the best known pleasure resorts in the middle west, and has been the scene of many notable hospitable functions.

Here it was the national editorial association was entertained three years ago. Personages of considerable prominence have been entertained here.

ENDS HIS LIFE BY SUICIDE

Grundy Callahan Who Killed Arthur Seabolt, Takes Whisky and Strychnine and Dies at His Home.

Grundy Callahan committed suicide last night at his home near Roff, by drinking whiskey and strychnine, as some of the contents were found left in the bottle from which he drank.

Grundy Callahan shot and killed his son-in-law, Arthur Seabolt, at the home of the latter, December 17th, last.

Seabolt married a daughter of the wife of Callahan by her first husband, who was an Indian. This daughter had an allotment, near Roff, on which Callahan lived, while Seabolt and his wife resided elsewhere.

On December 16th, Callahan moved off the premises and on the 17th, Seabolt moved in.

Callahan returned to the Seabolt home on the 17th of December, and according to an eye witness, shot Seabolt as he was getting out of the crib door with his arms full of corn. After shooting him down, he emptied other shots into the prostrate body. Upon examining trial, Callahan was committed to jail without bail, but later, his attorneys, Stone & Maxey, secured before Judge West, bond in the sum of $25,000, which was made with scheduled property security of $35,000.

It is reported that Callahan remarked before retiring for the night, that he had found a bottle of whiskey in the barn out of which he took two drinks.

Some of Callahan's friends rather hint at the possibility of a poisoned preparation having been fixed up for him, while others scout the idea.

Since being released on bond, Callahan has been residing near Roff, and last night he ended it all by taking sufficient strychnine to kill himself.

There is a chance here for the imagination to draw many conclusions and many moral lessons, but as it is the province of this paper to give only the unprejudiced news, that phase of the tragedy is passed up.

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE

A huge chandler is being placed in the center of the dome of the house of representatives. Possibly this is in preparation for such busy days as those of the last session when the legislature used to "hustle its job" from 8:30 a. m. until 1 a. m.

Corrected along certain lines suggested by the governor, a new gambling bill, "practically the same as that passed by the last legislature and vetoed by the governor, has been introduced in the senate by Senator Roddie.

An act to provide for the dependent children of the state was introduced by Senator R. E. Stafford of Oklahoma City.

It is the intention that all homeless children, those who have no parents or guardians to help, those who beg or receive alms; who live in houses of ill fame or disreputable places unfit for children to live, or any child under 8 found begging, selling or playing any musical instrument on the street or in public places of amusement shall become wards of the state, and be under the jurisdiction of a juvenile court.

Any child which violates any of the laws of the state or nation is to be deemed delinquent and subject to the finding of the juvenile court, which is given the control of such delinquents.

The bill provides for all necessary officers for the enforcement of the proposed law, and is complete in its details. One of the important features is the manner in which children may be taken from inhuman parents and put where their surroundings will be more profitable to the growing mind. Should the efforts of the juvenile court seem insufficient to control the child, it may be sent to the boys' or girls' training school.

Logan county's negro representative has thus far made no effort to gain recognition from the speaker. He occupies a seat in the rear of the minority section. When his name was called for the first time there was some hissing in the gallery, but this was promptly stopped.

The reason a man hates to buy his own underwear instead of his wife is he can never remember whether his waist measure is the size of his collar or the amount of his coal bill.

DOPE, BUT 'TIS TRUE

A bill has now been introduced into each house of the legislature of Oklahoma locating a State Normal College at Ada. These bills have been referred to the Public Building Committees. The personnel of these committees has been carefully noted by the members of the legislature from this district, each of whom is vitally interested in the achievement of Ada's present consuming ambition, and each declares that the committee is well selected; not well selected because of any expressed intentions or pre-disposition of any member to report out a bill with Ada at the top of the list for a State Normal, but well selected because on the whole they compare favorably with the best membership of the legislative branches of which they are a part. The city of Ada has confidence in the general integrity and ability of the second Oklahoma legislature and makes the award now that in addition of the Southeastern State Normal at Ada, other good and wholesome legislation will be enacted.

When Ada presented its case before the first legislature last winter—distinctly, in figures and facts undeniable, setting out why the Southeastern State Normal should be located at Ada, even the cold hearts of some of the lobbyists of the contesting cities were made to tremble; for, wherewithal, Ada's little tinney name, maidenly modesty and limited political influence, it became a fact to be reckoned with—always must be with democrats, that it was dangerous for the party organization to try to force the success of a slate to the sacrifice of the city, which notably is the superior location of any in the state for the Southeastern Normal.

This city is delighted with the consideration already shown by the organization of the legislature and the head of the state administration, and it is declared to the head of the state administration that there is no insinuation in the use of the word "de-lighted" in the frame up of such declaration.

Two State Normals will be located during the session.

Alertness, the legitimate use of money, and the ordinary use of brains, put along side of being right, will secure the normal.

SUICIDES RATHER THAN HANG

Atlas, Okla., Jan. 14.—Blowing his brains out with a rifle to save himself from the gallows, the suicide of Robert Williams, at the home of his cousin, Joe Williams at Hess, yesterday, where he was taken to see his wife, has apparently solved the disappearance of Charley Elliott from his home here on December 5. The body of an unknown man answering the description of Elliott was found in the Trinity river at Fort Worth. Elliott and Williams left here together on December 5, and bought tickets to Elmer, and from there they went to Chillicothe, Wichita Falls and to Denver. Elliott is thought to have had money. Williams returned here a few days ago.

With the finding of the body in the river, several parties from here went to identify the body. A telegram was received from Fort Worth, and immediately Williams was put under arrest, charged with the murder of Elliott.

When arrested here Williams asked to go out to Hess, a few miles from here to see his wife who was stopping at the house of Joe Williams, a cousin of Robert Williams. After making a short visit the officer accompanying Williams started with him back to town. As Williams passed out of the house he felt in his pocket for money and remarked to the officer that he would have to have some more. He went back into the house and immediately there was a loud report and a heavy fall. The officer went inside in time to see Williams breathe his last with a portion of his head torn away. Williams had seen the rifle standing in the corner, and it is supposed, feeling that the web of guilt was being closely woven around him, he conceived the suicide idea.

The disappearance of Elliott has caused great excitement here and inquiry has been sent all over the country in the effort to locate the missing man.

TO ADA BUSINESS MEN.

A glance at the advertising columns of the News will convince the casual and inexperienced reader that few of the business concerns are represented.

This does not speak well for the enterprise of these business men, though many of them are known to be enterprising and liberal.

It is to the advantage of Ada to have a live and prosperous looking daily published here. Every property holder and business man is benefited either directly or indirectly.

There is not an issue of the Daily News, that does not contain some item of information relative to the advantages of Ada, either as a manufacturing point, cotton center, a delightful location, a high-class citizenship, or some kind of commendation of the city or its people. This information is read elsewhere than in Ada, and it is seen by the scores of visitors here every day, consequently a benefit is done the city as a whole, and thereby every business and professional man and every property holder is correspondingly benefited.

The Daily News has been keeping up its work for Ada at a loss for several years, and the time has come when the burden must be borne by the business and property interests of this city. It will require only a comparatively small amount of patronage from each to make a total sufficient to publish a paper even better than is now being issued, but when to do this nearly all these interests depend upon the few more progressive and liberal, with the owner of the News to make good the deficit, for the expense incurred, it is time to do some plain talking.

It will not be denied, we suppose, that Ada's position as a manufacturing and commercial center demand a daily.

It will not be denied, also, that this is a point in the growth of Ada, when no lagging can be afforded nor backward step taken.

The appearance of the Daily News, and its evidence of prosperity or pauperism, as shown in the advertising columns, either gives Ada a reputation abroad as having an enterprising, liberal citizenship, or a non-progressive and parsimonious people.

This is not the judgment of the News—it is what the outside public will conclude, and it is the reputation and appearance to the outside public upon which greatly rests the growth of any place.

At this particular time, Ada needs to put her best foot foremost.

The News is doing its part and more, as the appearance and contents of the paper will attest.

Will the people or Ada do theirs? It is up to them.

When President-elect Taft is inaugurated he will be the twenty-seventh president of the United States, though he will be the twenty-sixth man who has served in that office. This comes about by reason of the fact that Grover Cleveland was the twenty-second president and then succeeded Benjamin Harrison as the twenty-fourth president.—Denison Herald.

A YOUNG ORATOR.

High School Boy Tells Story of John Morgan's Death

(From Ardmoreite.)

It is always a pleasure to see a young man take an interest in the history of his country, local and general, and when to the fact of his ability to understand what he learns is added the fact that he knows how to tell it, the pleasure is doubled.

At the last meeting of the Confederate Veterans Mr. Fred Tucker was very unexpectedly called upon to say something to his elders. While totally unprepared, he came forward and in a very modest way told of his admiration for the heroes of Dixie, and his love for the stories they could tell.

While visiting in the country last summer, Mr. Tucker said he met an old man who had seen service under General John H. Morgan, and when he finally succeeded in getting him to talk about the war time days, something that a Confederate veteran rarely ever does, unless he is absolutely forced into it, he found that this man actually witnessed the death of Morgan and the little handful of men to the treacherous woman, who pretended friendship, and who like Jael, prepared lordly dishes and entertained the visitors as favored guests, while all the while her messenger was speeding to the Union men who were to slay them. The old soldier spoke of the hoofbeats of the Union horsemen, heard too late, of the wild rush of the doomed men, only to be shot down like wild beasts in a trap, he told of his own miraculous escape and how from brush-heap where he lay hidden, he saw Morgan, knowing he was doomed, stand gun in hand, head up, facing the sure death awaiting him, and firing until he fell stone dead upon the threshold of the Judas woman's home. It was a dreadful story, yet not one heard it without a thrill of admiration for the hero who fell without a horror of the one who betrayed him. It may be well to state that, from the time of that work of darkness this woman's fate was what might have been expected. She had been honored and respected, had held a good position in society, was born of well descended people, but from the day she acted as the betrayer of her countrymen, her decline began. From depth to depth she and her family sunk, until they were swallowed up in the dark mists that shroud the underworld. Her place knows of her no more forever.

Mr. Tucker told the story well. Should he live and fulfill the promise he shows now, the veterans will have one who is worthy to hand down to coming generations the matchless heroism of the men who wore the gray.

STATE CAPITAL LETTER.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—That there will be some sort of legislation on the subject of state dispensary is assured by the recent decision of the supreme court, affirming the holding of the district court, which declares the agency system was not correctly submitted at the late election and is therefore not annulled. Until such legislation is enacted it is understood that there will be no effort made to open the agencies in the various towns that were closed by the proclamation of Gov. Haskell, when the certificate of election results on the question were submitted.

WHAT GIVES IT VALUE.

(From Denison Herald.)

A writer with a gift for phrasing once wrote: "If your store is not worth advertising, advertise it for sale." His phrase runs trippingly, but his logic halts.

To sell a store that is "not worth advertising" would be to defraud the buyer—so that the advice is ethically unsound.

Of course there are not many stores that are not worth advertising—in this city, perhaps none at all. The fact is that no store ever gets to be worth very much—beyond the mere open market value of stock and fixtures—until it has been adequately advertised. Until then it has exerted no influence as an organization, equipped for useful service to the people. It has simply been a place where certain things were kept for sale.

After it has had the breath of life put into it by advertising it becomes a store in the militant sense—intent upon winning friends, upon the problems of growth.

The dulllest store in this city can be rejuvenated in a month until it finds a place in the procession—but only through advertising. If, however, the store were not "worth advertising," it would be more commendable to close up entirely than to try to "sell" it to somebody else.

AS TO COURT OF APPEALS.

Contemplated Regulation of Its Continuance.

Guthrie, Jan. 14.—A measure to continue the creation of the criminal court of appeals and which defines the duties and powers of the court was introduced yesterday by Senator Davis. The bill is practically that which was enacted by the first legislature there being but few changes excepting what is known as section 21, A—which provides for the return of all prisoners to state penal institutions.

The Davis bill provides that the first election of criminal court of appeal members shall be held at the general election in 1910. The judges shall determine the length of their terms by drawing, either a two, four or six year term. It being the intention that in the future a new member of the court shall be elected every two years, and that after the first election each judge shall serve for a period of six years.

As the name of the court implies the court will have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the state in all criminal cases; the court may issue writs or habeas corpus, and may if necessary enforce such writ as provided by law.

The member having the shortest term to serve at the organization of the court shall become the presiding judge, serving for two years. There shall be three law clerks, stenographers, each judge appointing one who shall receive salaries at the rate of $1200 per annum. The clerk of the court is to become a fee official, receiving the same as at the present time.

Decision of the court are to be published separately from the supreme court reports.

Nerve Saved His Life.

Elk City, Okla., Jan. 14.—A. P. Harris, while driving to his ranch, attempted to get out of the carriage to shoot some quails, having the gun cocked and loaded. His foot slipped and his boot caught on the step of the carriage and held fast and the team started to run. He was thrown to the ground, but caught the bows of the carriage top, which was dropped back, with one hand, held the cocked gun with the other, while the team ran half a mile, worked his foot loose, climbed over the back of the carriage to the seat, uncocked his gun, which had not been fired, gathered up the lines and continued his journey.

INDIAN GETS NEW TRIAL.

Willet Harjo for the Murder of His Wife in Seminole County.

Guthrie, Jan. 14.—The criminal court of appeals granted a new trial to Willet Harjo, a Seminole Indian under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of his wife. He was sentenced at Wewoka in the United States district court of the Western District on April 11, 1906.

The court upholds the defendant's contention that partiality was shown by the officer who summoned the jury sufficient to be considered prejudicial to his case. The court states that where a conviction has been fairly obtained technical errors will not be considered but it will not allow any judgment of conviction to stand when the record shows that unfair means were resorted to in order to obtain it.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many an Ada Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action. Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Ada people testify to this. W. F. Jones, E. Eleventh St., Ada, Okla., says: "It is over a year and a half since I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at G. M. Ramsey's drug store and through their use received a cure from a severe case of kidney complaint. There was a dull ache through my loins and the too-frequent passage of the kidney secretions caused me great annoyance. I tried a number of remedies, but received only temporary relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no occasion to resort to a kidney remedy since as the cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected has proven to be a permanent one."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

SENATOR TILLMAN SPEAKS

Washington, Jan. 14.—Senator Tillman's insistent demand for an investigation makes little impression on congressmen, whatever the effect of it may be throughout the country. Personally the controlling powers in the senate would like to accommodate him, for Senator Tillman is one of the most popular men in the body, but they are unable to see what there is to investigate since there is no dispute as to the essential circumstances of the case. Therefore, there is still no likelihood that there will be an investigation, although, as has been said before, it is probable that in its report on the use of the secret service the appropriation committee will make some observations on the Tillman case.

Replies to Officials.

Senator Tillman in the main made reply to utterances of Attorney General Meyer. He quotes the portion of Mr. Bonaparte's statement of last Monday in which the latter said that Senator Tillman had not told him of his desire to obtain some of the lands in question and flatly contradicted the head of the department of justice. He declared that he had been entirely frank with Mr. Bonaparte and had fully explained to him his interest in those lands. He attributed the attorney general's attitude to a desire to "bolster up the president." Postmaster General Meyer was brought into the discussion because of a statement made to him regarding the investigation of the Dorr case. Mr. Tillman said that the inquiry had been directed originally against Dorr was not based on the truth. He declared that from the first the inquiry had been directed against him (Tillman) and not against Dorr. Mr. Tillman was also careful to bring out the fact that the land which he had attempted to get was not government land at all, but land granted as far back as 1868 under the condition that it should be sold at $2.50 per acre.

Demand Investigation.

Mr. Tillman closed with a renewal of his demand for an investigation. He said he was prepared for anything, even the knife of the assassin. Mr. Tillman obtained the floor very early in the session. He read a letter he had received from Attorney General Bonaparte in response to his verbal request made yesterday for information concerning the legal proceedings that have been brought by the department of justice against the Southern Oregon Company, which holds the 2,000,000 acres of timber land granted in connection with the Coos Bay wagon road.

TO SEND INSPECTORS OUT.

Excessive Tax Levies Will Be Investigated After Bill Passes.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—State Examiner and Inspector Charles Taylor announced today that as soon as the bill now pending in the legislature providing for the reduction of excessive tax levies, is passed by both houses and signed by the governor, he will send inspectors into every county of the state and examine closely the tax levies. If any are found excessive, and the taxes are known to be so in many school districts and several counties, Mr. Taylor will report to the governor and the local boards will be asked to meet at once and reduce the levies to the constitutional limitation.

In many school districts the school tax is double and sometimes quadruple the county tax and many times larger than the state tax. In one school district the school tax upon one half section of land was $132, or nearly 50 cents an acre. The administration realizes that these excessive district and county taxes will be laid to the democrats now in control of the government, whereas the administration has reduced the state tax to 1 1-2 mills, and claims that the excessive taxes are due to extravagant levies of county and township boards of assessors. The governor will require all boards to reduce the levy to what is actually necessary for conducting the business of the county or school district for one year.

2 WOMEN AND 1 MAN SUICIDE

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 14.—"Whatever lives, lives to die in sorrow. We engage our hearts and grasp after the things of this world only to undergo the pang of losing them."

With this bitter philosophy from Schiller's drama, "The Robbers," fixed in her morbid mind by a terrible night of reading "Sappho" and "Hamlet" and reflection, a girl left her room in a west side tenement and hurried to the home of her dearest friend, there to end by attempted murder and suicide a real drama of love and friendship, of socialism and anarchy, of sweatshop bondage and high aspirations, of two women and one man.

Not the ordinary story of the love of two women for a man was this in which Anna Rabinovitch, child of the Russian revolution and daughter of the Ghetto, played the principal part. The pretty young murderess killed her girl friend through jealousy of the man in the case through a determination that this girl, whom she loved, should never become the possession of another.

But in spite of her determination, in spite of the steady aim which sent a bullet through the breast of Bertha Yoblonsky and into the wall behind her, her rival sat all day at the bedside of the victim, through the morning and afternoon, while she lay dying at the county hospital, and when she expired, happy in the belief that he would never enjoy the love of the girl she had loved, he was receiving the assurance of a physician that in spite of the bullet hole through her chest the girl victim would recover.

A small, dark, inner room on the third floor of a large tenement at the corner of Laffin and West Thirtieth streets was the home of the dead girl and the scene of most of the acts in the grim tragedy. Here these two girls, both recent immigrants from Russia, both employed in the same garment maker's shop, both pretty and just out of their teens, met to discuss socialism, anarchy, history, literature, "the revolution," and similar subjects. Here Bernard Kamenetsky, who lived in the tenement joined them, and, according to the dying statement of the suicide, brought love—not platonic, but masculine—into the "group" and came between the two friends.

And today in this room there lay on the bed where the strange girl of the Ghetto had left them, after a night of reading "Hamlet," in English, and worn to fragments, and

"Sappho," by Alphonse Daudet, in French, paper bound. A short note, her books and this dying statement were all that she left to show the workings of her mind.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 3

How to Write Retail Advertising Copy

By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his road-bed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table!

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit—blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing. Afterwards take the type-written manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francais" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.

TAX PAYING TIME EXTENDED

Guthrie Okla, Jan 14—Gov. Haskell tonight approved the bill passage of which was completed in the legislature today extending the time for paying taxes due last December and which would have become delinquent tomorrow. The senate in handling the legislation last regularly voted down all amendments for fear of jeopardizing the bill today. A number of the senators held that it provided no way for recovery of ex. The bill today without mandamus proceedings and Senator Davis accepted an amendment of the clause and accepted. It was practically agreed that if this became necessary a supplemental act would be passed. Taxes affected are those for the first half of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909 and for the deficiencies of the last fiscal year, being due Dec 15, 1908 and delinquent with penalty Jan 15. The bill extends payment until April 19 and the penalty does not run until thirty days afterward.

The

Reason for the legislation was found in the numerous excessive tax levies made by counties which were reported to the administration from nearly every section of the state. The bill provides that where the tax levies for any county city township town or school district for the period contemplated which shall have been illegally made or exceeds the reasonable public requirements they may be corrected by the proper officers in event of their failure or refusal to do so action may be brought by any taxpayer the county attorney or by the attorney general under the direction of the governor.

Where taxes have been paid prior to the passage of the act and levied whereof is subsequently corrected under provision of this law the excesses are to be credited upon the second half of such levy and where the amount exceeds the total amount of such corrected levy the excess is to be refunded.

HISTORIC HOUSE IS BURNED

Bliss Okla Jan 14—Barely escaping incineration with nothing on but their night clothes early in the morning ten people scrambled wildly down stairs and out into zero weather when the big White House at the 101 Ranch was completely destroyed by fire with all its contents.

George Miller sustained a bruised foot in making his escape down the stairs and that all were not burned to death is a miracle.

The fire caught in the furnace and spread rapidly through the house before any one awoke and when discovered the whole building was a roaring seething mass of flames. All the inmates were compelled to walk barefooted through the snow and freezing cold to the other ranch houses for shelter.

The house was occupied by Geo. Miller and his mother and family. It was richly furnished and contained many valuable mementoes all of which were destroyed. The only article saved was a trunk belonging to Mr. Miller's mother.

The loss is estimated at $30,000 with insurance of $7,500. Another building will replace the one burned and it will be built at once. The building burned was three stories and basement and contained four teen rooms. It is probably one of the best known pleasure resorts in the middle west and has been the scene of many notable hospitable functions.

Here it was the national editorial association was entertained three years ago. Personages of considerable prominence have been entertained here.

ENDS HIS LIFE BY SUICIDE

Grundy Callahan Who Killed Arthur Seabolt, Takes Whisky and Strychnine and Dies at His Home.

Grundy Callahan committed suicide last night at his home near Roff, by drinking whiskey and strychnine, as some of the contents were found left in the bottle from which he drank.

Grundy Callahan shot and killed his son in law Arthur Seabolt at the home of the latter December 17th last.

Seabolt married a daughter of the wife of Callahan by her first husband who was an Indian. This daughter had an allotment near Roff on which Callahan lived while Seabolt and his wife resided elsewhere.

On December 16th Callahan moved off the premises and on the 17th Seabolt moved in.

Callahan returned to the Seabolt home on the 17th of December and according to an eye witness shot Seabolt as he was getting out of the crib door with his arms full of corn. After shooting him down he emptied other shots into the prostrate body.

Upon examining trial Callahan was committed to jail without bail but later his attorneys Stone & Maxey secured before Judge West bond in the sum of $25,000 which was made with scheduled property security of $35,000.

It is reported that Callahan remarked before retiring for the night that he had found a bottle of whiskey in the barn out of which he took two drinks.

Some of Callahan's friends rather hint at the possibility of a poisoned preparation having been fixed up for him while others scout the idea.

Since being released on bond Callahan has been residing near Roff and last night he ended it all by taking sufficient strychnine to kill himself.

There is a chance here for the imagination to draw many conclusions and many moral lessons, but as it is the province of this paper to give only the unprejudiced news that phase of the tragedy is passed up.

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE

A huge chandelier is being placed in the center of the dome of the house of representatives. Possibly this is in preparation for such busy days as those of the last session when the legislature used to hustle its job from 8:30 a m until 1 a m.

Corrected along certain lines suggested by the governor a new gambling bill, practically the same as that passed by the last legislature and vetoed by the governor has been introduced in the senate by Senator Roddie.

An act to provide for the dependent children of the state was introduced by Senator R. E. Stafford of Oklahoma City.

It is the intention that all homeless children, those who have no parents or guardians to help those who beg or receive alms who live in houses of ill fame or disreputable places unfit for children to live or any child under 8 found begging, selling or playing any musical instrument on the street or in public places of amusement shall become wards of the state and be under the jurisdiction of a juvenile court.

Any child which violates any of the laws of the state or nation is to be deemed delinquent and subject to the finding of the juvenile court which is given the control of such delinquents.

The bill provides for all necessary officers for the enforcement of the proposed law and is complete in its details. One of the important features is the manner in which children may be taken from inhuman parents and put where their surroundings will be more profitable to the growing mind. Should the efforts of the juvenile court seem insufficient to control the child it may be sent to the boys or girls training school.

Logan county's negro representative has thus far made no effort to gain recognition from the speaker. He occupies a seat in the rear of the minority section. When his name was called for the first time there was some hissing in the gallery, but this was promptly stopped.

The reason a man hates to buy his own underwear instead of his wife is he can never remember whether his waist measure is the size of his collar or the amount of his coal bill.

DOPE, BUT 'TIS TRUE

A bill has now been introduced in to each house of the legislature of Oklahoma locating a State Normal College at Ada. These bills have been referred to the Public Building Committee. The personnel of these committees has been carefully noted by the members of the legislature from this district each of whom is vitally interested in the achievement of Ada's present consuming ambition and each declares that the committee is well selected not well selected because of any expressed intentions or pre-disposition of any member to report out a bill with Ada at the top of the list for a State Normal but well selected because on the whole they compare favorably with the best membership of the legislative branches of which they are a part.

the general integrity and ability of the second Oklahoma legislature and makes the award now that in addition of the Southeastern State Normal at Ada other good and wholesome legislation will be enacted.

When Ada presented its case before the first legislature last winter—distinctly in figures and facts undeniable setting out why the Southeastern State Normal should be located at Ada, even the cold hearts of some of the lobbyists of the contesting cities were made to tremble, for wherewithal, Ada's little tinney name maidenly modesty and limited political influence, it became a fact to be reckoned with—always must be with democrats that it was dangerous for the party organization to try to force the success of a state to the sacrifice of the city which notably is the superior location of any in the state for the Southeastern Normal.

This city is delighted with the consideration already shown by the organization of the legislature and the head of the state administration and it is declared to the head of the state administration that there is no situation in the use of the word de lighted in the frame up of such declaration.

Two State Normals will be located during the session.

SUICIDES RATHER THAN HANG

Altus Okla Jan 14—Blowing his brains out with a rifle to save himself from the gallows, the suicide of Robert Williams at the home of his cousin Joe Williams at Hess yesterday where he was taken to see his wife has apparently solved the disappearance of Charley Elliott from his home here on December 5.

The body of an unknown man answering the description of Elliott was found in the Trinity river at Fort Worth Elliott and Williams left here together on December 5, and bought tickets to Elmer, and from there they went to Chillicothe, Wichita Falls and to Denver Elliott is thought to have had money Williams returned here a few days ago.

With the finding of the body in the river, several parties from here went to identify the body. A telegram was received from Fort Worth, and immediately Williams was put under arrest charged with the murder of Elliott.

When arrested here Williams asked to go out to Hess a few miles from here to see his wife who was stopping at the house of Joe Williams a cousin of Robert Williams. After making a short visit the officer accompanying Williams started with him back to town. As Williams passed out of the house he felt in his pocket for money and remarked to the officer that he would have to have some more. He went back into the house and immediately there was a loud report and a heavy fall. The officer went inside in time to see Williams breathe his last with a portion of his head torn away. Williams had seen the rifle standing in the corner and it is supposed, feeling that the web of guilt was being closely woven around him he conceived the suicide idea.

The disappearance of Elliott has caused great excitement here and inquiry has been sent all over the country in the effort to locate the missing man.

TO ADA BUSINESS MEN.

A glance at the advertising columns of the News will convince the casual and inexperienced reader that few of the business concerns are represented.

This does not speak well for the enterprise of these business men though many of them are known to be enterprising and liberal.

It is to the advantage of Ada to have a live and prosperous looking daily published here. Every property holder and business man is benefited either directly or indirectly.

There is not an issue of the Daily News that does not contain some item of information relative to the advantages of Ada either as a manufacturing point, cotton center, a delightful location, a high-class citizenship or some kind of commendation of the city or its people. This information is read elsewhere than in Ada and it is seen by the scores of visitors here every day consequently a benefit is done the city as a whole and thereby every business and professional man and every property holder is correspondingly benefited.

The Daily News has been keeping up its work of Ada at a loss for several years and the time has come when the burden must be borne by the business and property interests of this city. It will require only a comparatively small amount of patronage from each to make a total sufficient to publish a paper even better than is now being issued but when to do this means all these interests depend upon the few more progressive and liberal with the owner of the News to make good the deficit for the expense incurred it is time to do some plain talking.

It will not be denied we suppose that Ada's position as a manufacturing and commercial center demands a daily.

It will not be denied also that this is a point in the growth of Ada when no lagging can be afforded nor backward step taken.

The appearance of the Daily News and its evidence of prosperity or pauperism as shown in the advertising columns either gives Ada a reputation abroad as having an enterprising liberal citizenship or a non-progressive and parsimonious people.

This is not the judgment of the News—it is what the outside public will conclude and it is the reputation and appearance to the outside public upon which greatly rests the growth of any place.

At this particular time Ada needs to put her best foot foremost.

The News is doing its part and more as the appearance and contents of the paper will attest.

Will the people of Ada do theirs? It is up to them.

CHOICE ORATOR.

High School Boy Tells Story of John Morgan's Death

(From Ardmoreite)

It is always a pleasure to see a young man like an interest in the history of his country local and general and when to the fact of his ability to understand what he learns is added the fact that he knows how to tell it the pleasure is doubled.

At the last meeting of the Confederate Veterans Mr. Fred Tucker was very unexpectedly called upon to say something to his elders. While totally unprepared he came forward and in a very modest way told of his admiration for the heroes of Dixie and his love for the stories they could tell. While visiting in the country last summer Mr. Tucker said he met an old man who had seen service under General John H. Morgan and when he finally succeeded in getting him to talk about the war time days something that a Confederate veteran rarely ever does unless he is also luredly forced into it he found that this man actually witnessed the death of Morgan and the little handful of men to the treacherous woman who pretended friendship and who like Jael prepared lordly dishes and entertained the visitors as favored guests while all the while her messenger was speeding to the Union men who were to slay them. The old soldier spoke of the hoofbeats of the Union horsemen heard too late of the wild rush of the doomed men only to be shot down like wild beasts in a trap he told of his own miraculous escape and how from brush heap where he lay hidden he saw Morgan knowing he was doomed stand gun in hand head up facing the sure death awaiting him and firing until he fell stone dead upon the threshold of the Judas woman's home. It was a dreadful story yet not one heard it without a thrill of admiration for the hero who fell without a horror of the one who betrayed him. It may be well to state that from the time of that work of darkness this woman's fate was what might have been expected. She had been honored and respected had held a good position in society was born of well descended people but from the day she acted as the traitor of her countrymen her decline began from depth to depth she and her family sank until they were swallowed up in the dark mists that shroud the underworld. Her place knows of her no more forever.

Mr. Tucker told the story well. Should he live and fulfill the promise he shows now the veterans will have one who is worthy to hand down to coming generations the matchless heroism of the men who wore the gray.

STATE CAPITAL LETTER.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—That there will be some sort of legislation on the subject of state dispensary is assured by the recent decision of the supreme court affirming the holding of the district court which declares the agency system was not correctly submitted at the late election and is therefore not valid. Until such legislation is enacted it is understood that there will be no effort made to open the saloons in the various towns that were closed by the proclamation of Gov. Haskell when the certificate of election results on the question were submitted.

WHAT GIVES IT VALUE.

(From Denison Herald)
A writer with a gift for phrasing once wrote: If your store is not worth advertising advertise it for sale. His phrase runs trippingly but his logic halts.

To sell a store that is not worth advertising would be to defraud the buyer—so that the advice is ethical, ununsound.

Of course there are not many stores that are not worth advertising—in this city perhaps none at all. The fact is that no store ever gets to be worth very much—beyond the mere open market value of stock and fixtures—until it has been adequately advertised. Until then it has exerted no influence as an organization equipped for useful service to the people. It has simply been a place where certain things were kept for sale.

After it has had the breath of life put into it by advertising it becomes a store in the militant sense—intent upon winning its ends upon the problems of growth.

The duller store in this city can be rejuvenated in a month until it finds a place in the procession—but only through advertising. If however the store were not worth advertising it would be more commendable to close up entirely than to try to sell it to somebody else.

AS TO COURT OF APPEALS.

Contemplated Regulation of Its Continuance.

Guthrie Jan 14—A measure to continue the creation of the criminal court of appeals and which defines the duties and powers of the court was introduced yesterday by Senator Davis. The bill is practically that which was enacted by the first legislature there being but few changes excepting what is known as section 21 A—which provides for the return of all prisoners to state penal institutions.

The Davis bill provides that the first election of criminal court of appeal members shall be held at the general election in 1910. The judges shall determine the length of their terms by drawing either a two four or six year term. It being the intention that in the future a new member of the court shall be elected every two years and that after the first election each judge shall serve for a period of six years.

As the name of the court implies the court will have appellate jurisdiction co extensive with the limits of the state in all criminal cases. The court may issue writs of habeas corpus and may if necessary enforce such writ as provided by law.

The member having the shortest term to serve at the organization of the court shall become the presiding judge serving for two years. There shall be three law clerks stenographers each judge appointing one who shall receive salaries at the rate of $1200 per annum. The clerk of the court is to become a fee official receiving the same as at the present time.

Decision of the court are to be published separately from the supreme court reports.

INDIAN GETS NEW TRIAL.

Willet Harjo for the Murder of His Wife in Seminole County.

Guthrie Jan 14—The criminal court of appeals granted a new trial to Willet Harjo a Seminole Indian under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of his wife. He was sentenced at Wewoka in the United States district court of the Western District on April 11 1906.

The court upholds the defendant's contention that partially was shown by the officer who summoned the jury sufficient to be considered prejudicial to his case. The court states that where a conviction has been fairly obtained technical errors will not be considered but it will not allow any judgment of conviction to stand when the record shows that unfair means were resorted to in order to obtain it.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many an Ada Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action. Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Ada people testify to this. W F Jones 11 Eleventh St Ada Okla says: It is over a year and a half since I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at G M Ramsey's drug store and through their use received a cure from a severe case of kidney complaint. There was a dull ache through my loins and the too frequent passage of the kidney secretions caused me great annoyance. I tried a number of remedies but received only temporary relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no occasion to resort to a kidney remedy since as the cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected has proven to be a permanent one.

SENATOR TILLMAN SPEAKS

Washington Jan 14—Senator Tillman's insistent demand for an investigation makes little impression on congressmen whatever the effect of it may be throughout the country. Personally the controlling powers in the senate would like to accommodate him for Senator Tillman is one of the most popular men in the body but they are unable to see what there is to investigate since there is no dispute as to the essential circumstances of the case. Therefore there is still no likelihood that there will be an investigation although as has been said before it is probable that in its report on the use of the secret service the appropriation committee will make some observations on the Tillman case.

Replies to Officials.

Senator Tillman in the main made reply to utterances of Attorney General Meyer. He quotes the portion of Mr. Bonaparte's statement of last Monday in which the latter said that Senator Tillman had not told him of his desire to obtain some of the lands in question and flatly contradicted the head of the department of justice. He declared that he had been entirely frank with Mr. Bonaparte and had fully explained to him his interest in those lands. He attributed the attorney general's attitude to a desire to bolster up the president. Postmaster General Meyer was brought into the discussion because of a statement made to him regarding the investigation of the Dorr case. Mr. Tillman said that the inquiry had been directed originally against Dorr was not based on the truth. He declared that from the first the inquiry had been directed against him (Tillman) and not against Dorr. Mr. Tillman was also careful to bring out the fact that the land which he had attempted to get was not government land at all but land granted as far back as 1868 under the condition that it should be sold at $2.50 per acre.

Demand Investigation.

Mr. Tillman closed with a renewal of his demand for an investigation. He said he was prepared for anything, even the knife of the assassin. Mr. Tillman obtained the floor very early in the session. He read a letter he had received from Attorney General Bonaparte in response to his verbal request made yesterday for information concerning the legal proceedings that have been brought by the department of justice against the Southern Oregon Company, which holds the 2,000,000 acres of timber land granted in connection with the Coos Bay wagon road.

TO SEND INSPECTORS OUT.

Executive Tax Levies Will Be Investigated After Bill Passes.

Guthrie Okla. Jan 14—State Examiner and Inspector Charles Taylor announced today that as soon as the bill now pending in the legislature providing for the reduction of excessive tax levies is passed by both houses and signed by the governor he will send inspectors into every county of the state and examine closely the tax levies. If any are found excessive and the taxes are known to be so in many school districts and several counties Mr. Taylor will report to the governor and the local boards will be asked to meet at once and reduce the levies to the constitutional limitation.

In many school districts the school tax is double and sometimes quadruple the county tax and many times larger than the state tax. In one school district the school tax upon one half section of land was $182 or nearly 50 cents in acre. The administration realizes that these excessive district and county taxes will be laid to the democrats now in control of the government whereas the administration has reduced the state tax to 1 1/2 mills and claims that the excessive taxes are due to extravagant levies of county and township boards of assessors. The governor will require all boards to reduce the levy to what is actually necessary for conducting the business of the county or school district for one year.

2 WOMEN AND 1 MAN SUICIDE

Chicago Ill. Jan 14—Whatever lives lives to die in sorrow. We engage our hearts and grasp after the things of this world only to undergo the pang of losing them.

With this bitter philosophy from Schiller's drama 'The Robbers' fixed in her morbid mind by a terrible night of reading 'Sappho' and 'Hamlet' and reflection a girl left her room in a west side tenement and hurried to the home of her dearest friend there to end by attempted murder and suicide a real drama of love and friendship of socialism and anarchy of sweatshop bondage and high aspirations of two women and one man.

Not the ordinary story of the love of two women for a man was this in which Anna Rabinovitch child of the Russian revolution and daughter of the Ghetto played the principal part. The pretty young murderess killed her girl friend through jealousy of the man in the case through a determination that this girl whom she loved should never become the possession of another.

But in spite of her determination in spite of the steady aim which sent a bullet through the breast of Bertie Yablonsky and into the wall behind her, her rival sat all day at the bedside of the victim, through the morning and afternoon, while she lay dying at the county hospital, and when she expired, happy in the belief that he would never enjoy the love of the girl she had loved he was receiving the assurance of a physician that in spite of the bullet hole through her chest the girl victim would recover.

A small dark inner room on the third floor of a large tenement at the corner of Laflin and West Thirtieth streets was the home of the dead girl and the scene of most of the acts in the grim tragedy. Here these two girls, both recent immigrants from Russia both employed in the same garment makers shop both pretty and just out of their teens met to discuss socialism anarchy history literature 'the revolution' and similar subjects. Here Bernard Kamenetsky who lived in the tenement joined them and according to the dying statement of the suicide brought love—not platonic but masculine—into the group and came between the two friends.

And today in this room there lay on the bed where the strange girl of the Ghetto had left them after a night of reading 'Hamlet' in English and worn to fragments and

'Sappho,' by Alphonse Daudet, in French paper bound. A short note her books and this dying statement were all that she left to show the workings of her mind.

Some hot sports would rather buy a chance in a raffle than to be given a chance to be good.

A lazy man's trousers would last twice as long if he could wear them backside in front every other day.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO 3

How to Write Retail Advertising Copy

By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his road-bed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table!

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit—blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing. Afterwards take the type-written manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francais" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.

TAX PAYING TIME EXTENDED

Guthrie Okla., Jan 14—Gov. Haskell tonight approved the bill passage of which was completed in the legislature today extending the time for paying taxes due last December and which would have become delinquent tomorrow. The senate in handling the legislation last regularly voted down all amendments for fear of jeopardizing the bill today. A number of the senators held that it provided no way for recovery of taxes. A bill was introduced without mandamus proceedings and Senator Davis introduced an amendment of the character accepted. It was practically agreed that if this became necessary a supplemental act would be passed. Taxes affected are those for the first half of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909 and for the deficiencies of the last fiscal year, being due Dec 15, 1908 and delinquent with penalty Jan 15. The bill extends payment until April 19 and the penalty does not run until thirty days afterward.

The Evening News

Reason for the legislation was found in the numerous excessive tax levies made by counties which were reported to the administration from nearly every section of the state. The bill provides that where the tax levies for any county city township town or school district for the period contemplated which shall have been illegally made or exceeds the reasonable public requirements they may be corrected by the proper officers. In event of their failure or refusal to do so action may be brought by any taxpayer the county attorney or by the attorney general under the direction of the governor.

Where taxes have been paid prior to the passage of the act and levied whereof is subsequently corrected under provision of this law the excesses are to be credited upon the second half of such levy and where the amount exceeds the total amount of such corrected levy the excess is to be refunded.

HISTORIC HOUSE IS BURNED

Bliss Okla. Jan 14—Barely escaping incineration with nothing on but their night clothes early in the morning ten people scrambled wildly down stairs and out into zero weather when the big White House at the 101 Ranch was completely destroyed by fire with all its contents.

George Miller sustained a bruised foot in making his escape down the stairs and that all were not burned to death is a miracle.

The fire caught in the furnace and spread rapidly through the house before any one awoke and when discovered the whole building was a roaring seething mass of flames. All the inmates were compelled to walk barefooted through the snow and freezing cold to the other ranch houses for shelter.

The house was occupied by Geo. Miller and his mother and family. It was richly furnished and contained many valuable mementoes all of which were destroyed. The only article saved was a trunk belonging to Mr. Miller's mother.

The loss is estimated at $30,000 with insurance of $7,500. Another building will replace the one burned and it will be built at once. The building burned was three stories and basement and contained four teen rooms. It is probably one of the best known pleasure resorts in the middle west and has been the scene of many notable hospitable functions.

Here it was the national editorial association was entertained three years ago. Personages of considerable prominence have been entertained here.

ENDS HIS LIFE BY SUICIDE

Grundy Callahan Who Killed Arthur Seabolt, Takes Whisky and Strychnine and Dies at His Home.

Grundy Callahan committed suicide last night at his home near Roff, by drinking whiskey and strychnine, as some of the contents were found left in the bottle from which he drank.

Grundy Callahan shot and killed his son in law Arthur Seabolt at the home of the latter December 17th last.

Seabolt married a daughter of the wife of Callahan by her first husband who was an Indian. This daughter had an allotment near Roff on which Callahan lived while Seabolt and his wife resided elsewhere.

On December 16th Callahan moved off the premises and on the 17th Seabolt moved in.

Callahan returned to the Seabolt home on the 17th of December and according to an eye witness shot Seabolt as he was getting out of the crib door with his arms full of corn. After shooting him down he emptied other shots into the prostrate body. Upon examining trial Callahan was committed to jail without bail but later his attorneys Stone & Maxey secured before Judge West bond in the sum of $25,000 which was made with scheduled property security of $35,000.

It is reported that Callahan remarked before retiring for the night that he had found a bottle of whiskey in the barn out of which he took two drinks.

Some of Callahan's friends rather hint at the possibility of a poisoned preparation having been fixed up for him while others scout the idea.

Since being released on bond Callahan has been residing near Roff and last night he ended it all by taking sufficient strychnine to kill himself.

There is a chance here for the imagination to draw many conclusions and many moral lessons, but as it is the province of this paper to give only the unprejudiced news that phase of the tragedy is passed up.

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE

A huge chandelier is being placed in the center of the dome of the house of representatives. Possibly this is in preparation for such busy days as those of the last session when the legislature used to hustle its job from 8:30 a m until 1 a m.

Corrected along certain lines suggested by the governor a new gambling bill, practically the same as that passed by the last legislature and vetoed by the governor has been introduced in the senate by Senator Roddie.

An act to provide for the dependent children of the state was introduced by Senator R. E. Stafford of Oklahoma City.

It is the intention that all homeless children, those who have no parents or guardians to help those who beg or receive alms who live in houses of ill fame or disreputable places unfit for children to live or any child under 8 found begging, selling or playing any musical instrument on the street or in public places of amusement shall become wards of the state and be under the jurisdiction of a juvenile court.

Any child which violates any of the laws of the state or nation is to be deemed delinquent and subject to the finding of the juvenile court which is given the control of such delinquents.

The bill provides for all necessary officers for the enforcement of the proposed law and is complete in its details. One of the important features is the manner in which children may be taken from inhuman parents and put where their surroundings will be more profitable to the growing mind. Should the efforts of the juvenile court seem insufficient to control the child it may be sent to the boys or girls training school.

Logan county's negro representative has thus far made no effort to gain recognition from the speaker. He occupies a seat in the rear of the minority section. When his name was called for the first time there was some hussling in the gallery, but this was promptly stopped.

The reason a man hates to buy his own underwear instead of his wife is he can never remember whether his waist measure is the size of his collar or the amount of his coal bill.

DOPE, BUT 'TIS TRUE

A bill has now been introduced in to each house of the legislature of Oklahoma locating a State Normal College at Ada. These bills have been referred to the Public Building Committee. The personnel of these committees has been carefully noted by the members of the legislature from this district each of whom is vitally interested in the achievement of Ada's present consuming ambition and each declares that the committee is well selected not well selected because of any expressed intentions or pre-disposition of any member to report out a bill with Ada at the top of the list for a State Normal but well selected because on the whole they compare favorably with the best membership of the legislative branches of which they are a part. the general integrity and ability of the second Oklahoma legislature and makes the award now that in addition of the Southeastern State Normal at Ada other good and wholesome legislation will be enacted.

When Ada presented its case before the first legislature last winter—distinctly in figures and facts undeniably setting out why the Southeastern State Normal should be located at Ada, even the cold hearts of some of the lobbyists of the contesting cities were made to tremble, for wherewithal, Ada's little tinney name maidenly modesty and limited political influence, it became a fact to be reckoned with—always must be with democrats that it was dangerous for the party organization to try to force the success of a slate to the sacrifice of the city which notably is the superior location of any in the state for the Southeastern Normal.

This city is delighted with the consideration already shown by the organization of the legislature and the head of the state administration and it is declared to the head of the state administration that there is no situation in the use of the word de-lighted in the frame up of such declaration.

Two State Normals will be located during the session.

Alertness the legitimate use of money and the ordinary use of brains put along side of being right will secure the normal.

SUICIDES RATHER THAN HANG

Atish Okla. Jan 14—Blowing his brains out with a rifle to save himself from the gallows, the suicide of Robert Williams at the home of his cousin Joe Williams at Hess yesterday where he was taken to see his wife has apparently solved the disappearance of Charley Elliott from his home here on December 5.

The body of an unknown man answering the description of Elliott was found in the Trinity river at Fort Worth Elliott and Williams left here together on December 5, and bought tickets to Elmer, and from there they went to Chillicothe, Wickka Falls and to Denver Elliott is thought to have had money Williams returned here a few days ago.

With the finding of the body in the river, several parties from here went to identify the body. A telegram was received from Fort Worth, and immediately Williams was put under arrest charged with the murder of Elliott.

When arrested here Williams asked to go out to Hess a few miles from here to see his wife who was stopping at the house of Joe Williams a cousin of Robert Williams. After making a short visit the officer accompanying Williams started with him back to town. As Williams passed out of the house he felt in his pocket for money and remarked to the officer that he would have to have some more. He went back into the house and immediately there was a loud report and a heavy fall. The officer went inside in time to see Williams breathe his last with a portion of his head torn away. Williams had seen the rifle standing in the corner and it is supposed, feeling that the web of guilt was being closely woven around him he conceived the suicide idea.

The disappearance of Elliott has caused great excitement here and inquiry has been sent all over the country in the effort to locate the missing man.

TO ADA BUSINESS MEN.

A glance at the advertising columns of the News will convince the casual and inexperienced reader that few of the business concerns are represented.

This does not stick well for the enterprise of these business men though many of them are known to be enterprising and liberal.

It is to the advantage of Ada to have a live and prosperous looking daily published here. Every property holder and business man is benefited either directly or indirectly.

There is not an issue of the Daily News that does not contain some item of information relative to the advantages of Ada either as a manufacturing point, cotton center, a delightful location, a high-class citizenship or some kind of commendation of the city or its people. This information is read elsewhere than in Ada and it is seen by the scores of visitors here every day consequently a benefit is done the city as a whole and thereby every business and professional man and every property holder is correspondingly benefited.

The Daily News has been keeping up its work at Ada at a loss for several years and the time has come when the burden must be borne by the business and property interests of this city. It will require only a comparatively small amount of patronage from each to make a total sufficient to publish a paper even better than is now being issued but when to do this nearly all these interests depend upon the few more progressive and liberal with the owner of the News to make good the deficit for the expense incurred it is time to do some plain talking.

It will not be denied we suppose that Ada's position as a manufacturing and commercial center demands a daily.

It will not be denied also that this is a point in the growth of Ada when no lagging can be afforded nor backward step taken.

The appearance of the Daily News and its evidence of prosperity of citizenship as shown in the advertising columns either gives Ada a reputation abroad as having an enterprising liberal citizenship or a non-progressive and parsimonious people.

This is not the judgment of the News—it is what the outside public will conclude and it is the reputation and appearance to the outside public upon which greatly rests the growth of any place.

At this particular time Ada needs to put her best foot foremost.

The News is doing its part and more is the appearance and contents of the paper will attest.

Will the people of Ada do theirs? It is up to them.

Frank Huddleston the efficient farmer member from Ponotoc county in the lower house has introduced a bill for locating a Normal School at Ada. Frank is one of the influential members of the legislature and will do as he did before make a good record.

Cox Campbell of Texas recognizes a good thing when he sees it so has endorsed the state guaranty deposit bank law that is in effect in Oklahoma.

YOUNG ORATOR.

High School Boy Tells Story of John Morgan's Death

(From Ardmoreite)

It is always a pleasure to see a young man like an interest in the history of his country local and general and when to the fact of his ability to understand what he learns is added the fact that he knows how to tell it the pleasure is doubled.

At the last meeting of the Confederate Veterans Mr. Fred Tucker was very unexpectedly called upon to say something to his elders. While totally unprepared he came forward and in a very modest way told of his admiration for the heroes of Dixie and his love for the stories they could tell. While visiting in the country last summer Mr. Tucker said he met an old man who had seen service under General John H. Morgan and when he finally succeeded in getting him to talk about the war time days something that a Confederate veteran rarely ever does unless he is also subtly forced into it he found that this man actually witnessed the death of Morgan and the little handful of men to the treacherous woman who pretended friendship and who like Jael prepared lordly dishes and entertained the visitors as favored guests while all the while her messenger was speeding to the Union men who were to slay them. The old soldier spoke of the hoofbeats of the Union horsemen heard too late of the wild rush of the doomed men only to be shot down like wild beasts in a trap he told of his own miraculous escape and how from brush heap where he lay hidden he saw Morgan knowing he was doomed stand gun in hand head up facing the sure death awaiting him and firing until he fell stone dead upon the threshold of the Judas woman's home. It was a dreadful story yet not one heard it without a thrill of admiration for the hero who fell without a horror of the one who betrayed him. It may be well to state that from the time of that work of darkness this woman's fate was what might have been expected. She had been honored and respected had held a good position in society was born of well descended people but from the day she acted as the betrayer of her countrymen her decline began. From depth to depth she and her family sunk until they were swallowed up in the dark mists that shroud the underworld. Her place knows of her no more forever.

Mr. Tucker told the story well. Should he live and fulfill the promise he shows now the veterans will have one who is worthy to hand down to coming generations the matchless heroism of the men who wore the gray.

STATE CAPITAL LETTER.

Guthrie, Okla. Jan. 14.—That there will be some sort of legislation on the subject of state dispensary is assured by the recent decision of the supreme court affirming the holding of the district court which declares the agency system was not correctly submitted at the late election and is therefore null and void. Until such legislation is enacted it is understood that there will be no effort made to open the agencies in the various towns that were closed by the proclamation of Gov. Haskell when the certificate of election results on the question were submitted.

Every republican member of the lower house voted against the adoption of a committee on criminal every night until early in the morning. Committee work is being pushed and many of the most important hearings are held at night.

Representative Jones the minority spoke man makes more speeches every day than all other republican members combined.

Representative Durant of Durant has won his spurs as the house humorist. His resolution declaring the water wagon a common carrier is admitted to be one of the cleverest bullshines ever read in an Oklahoma legislative body.

El Reno expects to entertain the legislature and state officials and employes Saturday night of next week. A special train will take the visitors over after the days session is concluded. A hall and banquet is planned Thursday a committee from El Reno was here perfecting arrangements. Both Governor Bellamy and Speaker Wilson are from Canadian county of which El Reno is the county seat.

WHAT GIVES IT VALUE.

(From Denison Herald.)

A writer with a gift for phrasing once wrote: "If your store is not worth advertising, advertise it for sale." His phrase runs trippingly, but his logic halts.

To sell a store that is "not worth advertising" would be to defraud the buyer—so that the advice is ethically unsound.

Of course there are not many stores that are not worth advertising—in this city, perhaps none at all. The fact is that no store ever gets to be worth very much—beyond the mere open market value of stock and fixtures—until it has been adequately advertised. Until then it has exerted no influence as an organization, equipped for useful service to the people. It has simply been a place where certain things were kept for sale.

After it has had the breath of life put into it by advertising it becomes a store in the militant sense—intent upon winning friends, upon the problems of growth.

The duldest store in this city can be rejuvenated in a month until it finds a place in the procession—but only through advertising. If, however, the store were not "worth advertising," it would be more commendable to close up entirely than to try to "sell" it to somebody else.

AS TO COURT OF APPEALS.

Contemplated Regulation of Its Continuance.

Guthrie, Jan. 14.—A measure to continue the creation of the criminal court of appeals and which defines the duties and powers of the court was introduced yesterday by Senator Davis. The bill is practically that which was enacted by the first legislature there being but few changes excepting what is known as section 21, A—which provides for the return of all prisoners to state penal institutions.

The Davis bill provides that the first election of criminal court of appeal members shall be held at the general election in 1910. The judges shall determine the length of their terms by drawing, either a two, four or six year term. It being the intention that in the future a new member of the court shall be elected every two years, and that after the first election each judge shall serve for a period of six years.

As the name of the court implies the court will have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the state in all criminal cases; the court may issue writs or habeas corpus, and may if necessary enforce such writ as provided by law.

The member having the shortest term to serve at the organization of the court shall become the presiding judge, serving for two years. There shall be three law clerks, stenographers, each judge appointing one who shall receive salaries at the rate of $1200 per annum. The clerk of the court is to become a fee official, receiving the same as at the present time.

Decision of the court are to be published separately from the supreme court reports.

Nerie Saved His Life.

Elk City, Okla., Jan. 14.—A. P. Harris, while driving to his ranch, attempted to get out of the carriage to shoot some quails, having the gun cocked and loaded. His foot slipped and his boot caught on the step of the carriage and held fast and the team started to run. He was thrown to the ground, but caught the bows of the carriage top, which was dropped back, with one hand, held the coked gun with the other, while the team ran half a mile, worked his foot loose, climbed over the back of the carriage to the seat, uncocked his gun, which had not been fired, gathered up the lines and continued his journey.

INDIAN GETS NEW TRIAL.

Willet Harjo for the Murder of His Wife in Seminole County.

Guthrie, Jan. 14.—The criminal court of appeals granted a new trial to Willet Harjo, a Seminole Indian under sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of his wife. He was sentenced at Wewoka in the United States district court of the Western District on April 11, 1906.

The court upholds the defendant's contention that partiality was shown by the officer who summoned the jury sufficient to be considered prejudicial to his case. The court states that where a conviction has been fairly obtained technical errors will not be considered but it will not allow any judgment of conviction to stand when the record shows that unfair means were resorted to in order to obtain it.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many an Ada Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Ada people testify to this. W. F. Jones, 15, Eleventh St., Ada, Okla., says: "It is over a year and a half since I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at G. M. Ramsey's drug store and through their use received a cure from a severe case of kidney complaint. There was a dull ache through my loins and the too-frequent passage of the kidney secretions caused me great annoyance. I tried a number of remedies, but received only temporary relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no occasion to resort to a kidney remedy since as the cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected has proven to be a permanent one."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

CHAPMAN

The Shoe Man

East Main Street, Ada, Okla.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Senator Tillman's insistent demand for an investigation makes little impression on congressmen, whatever the effect of it may be throughout the country. Personally the controlling powers in the senate would like to accommodate him, for Senator Tillman is one of the most popular men in the body, but they are unable to see what there is to investigate since there is no dispute as to the essential circumstances of the case. Therefore, there is still no likelihood that there will be an investigation, although, as has been said before, it is probable that in its report on the use of the secret service the appropriation committee will make some observations on the Tillman case.

Replies to Officials.

Senator Tillman in the main made reply to utterances of Attorney General Meyer. He quotes the portion of Mr. Bonaparte's statement of last Monday in which the latter said that Senator Tillman had not told him of his desire to obtain some of the lands in question and flatly contradicted the head of the department of justice. He declared that he had been entirely frank with Mr. Bonaparte and had fully explained to him his interest in those lands. He attributed the attorney general's attitude to a desire to "bolster up the president." Postmaster General Meyer was brought into the discussion because of a statement made to him regarding the investigation of the Dorr case. Mr. Tillman said that the inquiry had been directed originally against Dorr was not based on the truth. He declared that from the first the inquiry had been directed against him (Tillman) and not against Dorr. Mr. Tillman was also careful to bring out the fact that the land which he had attempted to get was not government land at all, but land granted as far back as 1868 under the condition that it should be sold at $2.50 per acre.

Demands Investigation.

Mr. Tillman closed with a renewal of his demand for an investigation. He said he was prepared for anything, even the knife of the assassin. Mr. Tillman obtained the floor very early in the session. He read a letter he had received from Attorney General Bonaparte in response to his verbal request made yesterday for information concerning the legal proceedings that have been brought by the department of justice against the Southern Oregon Company, which holds the 2,000,000 acres of timber land granted in connection with the Coos Bay wagon road.

JEALOUS WIFE KILLS TWO.

Haskell, Okla., Jan. 11.—Jealousy the cause, Flora Jackson shot and fatally wounded her husband, Sam Jackson here, and walking to the home of Rose Simmons, shot her dead. The Jackson woman has been bound over to the district court on the charge of murder. Her husband will die.

TO SEND INSPECTORS OUT.

Executive Tax Levies Will Be Investigated After Bill Passes.

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 14.—State Examiner and Inspector Charles Taylor announced today that as soon as the bill now pending in the legislature providing for the reduction of excessive tax levies, is passed by both houses and signed by the governor, he will send inspectors into every county of the state and examine closely the tax levies. If any are found excessive, and the taxes are known to be so in many school districts and several counties, Mr. Taylor will report to the governor and the local boards will be asked to meet at once and reduce the levies to the constitutional limitation.

In many school districts the school tax is double and sometimes quadruple the county tax and many times larger than the state tax. In one school district the school tax upon one half section of land was $132, or nearly 50 cents an acre. The administration realizes that these excessive district and county taxes will be laid to the democrats now in control of the government, whereas the administration has reduced the state tax to 1-2 mills, and claims that the excessive taxes are due to extravagant levies of county and township boards of assessors. The governor will require all boards to reduce the levy to what is actually necessary for conducting the business of the county or school district for one year.

Oxprolendisomylamine is the name of a new heart stimulant. The dose is one syllable three times a day after meals.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 14.—"Whatever lives, lives to die in sorrow. We engage our hearts and grasp after the things of this world only to undergo the pang of losing them."

With this bitter philosophy from Schiller's drama, "The Robbers," fixed in her morbid mind by a terrible night of reading "Sappho" and "Hamlet" and reflection, a girl left her room in a west side tenement and hurried to the home of her dearest friend, there to end by attempted murder and suicide a real drama of love and friendship, of socialism and anarchy, of sweatshop bondage and high aspirations, of two women and one man.

Not the ordinary story of the love of two women for a man was this in which Anna Rabinovitch, child of the Russian revolution and daughter of the Ghetto, played the principal part. The pretty young murderess killed her girl friend through jealousy of the man in the case through a determination that this girl, whom she loved, should never become the possession of another.

But in spite of her determination, in spite of the steady aim which sent a bullet through the breast of Bertha Yoblonsky and into the wall behind her, her rival sat all day at the bedside of the victim, through the morning and afternoon, while she lay dying at the county hospital, and when she expired, happy in the belief that he would never enjoy the love of the girl she had loved, he was receiving the assurance of a physician that in spite of the bullet hole through her chest the girl victim would recover.

A small, dark, inner room on the third floor of a large tenement at the corner of Laffin and West Thirtieth streets was the home of the dead girl and the scene of most of the acts in the grim tragedy. Here these two girls, both recent immigrants from Russia, both employed in the same garment maker's shop, both pretty and just out of their teens, met to discuss socialism, anarchy, history, literature, "the revolution," and similar subjects. Here Bernard Kamenetsky, who lived in the tenement joined them, and, according to the dying statement of the suicide, brought love—not platonic, but masculine—into the "group" and came between the two friends.

And today in this room there lay on the bed where the strange girl of the Ghetto had left them, after a night of reading "Hamlet," in English, and worn to fragments, and

"Sappho," by Alphonse Daudet, in French, paper bound. A short note, her books and this dying statement were all that she left to show the workings of her mind.

Some hot sports would rather buy a chance in a raffle than to be given a chance to be good.

A lazy man's trousers would last twice as long if he could wear them backside in front every other day.

"93" HAIR TONIC

Our faith in the superior remedial qualities of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we promise to return your money—without question or quibble—if it does not do what we claim it will.

Because it contains Resorcin, Beta Naphthol, Pilocarpin, Borax, Glycerin and Alcohol in perfect combination, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic provides the softening, cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, stimulating and nourishing properties, so desirable and necessary for the successful treatment of scalp and hair troubles.

If used according to directions for a reasonable length of time, we are absolutely positive that it will thoroughly cleanse the scalp and hair, relieve irritation, eradicate dandruff, stimulate the hair follicles and papilla, revitalize and nourish the hair roots, stop falling hair, prevent baldness, promote hair growth and make the hair naturally soft and silky.

You must realize that we would not dare back up our claims with such a liberal offer unless we were positive that we can substantiate our statements in every particular, and the most skeptical person should at least be willing to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 3
How to Write Retail Advertising Copy
By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his road-bed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table.

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit—blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing. Afterwards take the typewritten manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francois" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.
